- Classes based on the course created by Matthew Alexander, former Curator of Guildford Museum. A set of Matthew's notes is included in the course.
- Both World War sessions will be presented by local historian David Rose.
- The classroom lectures will normally be followed by a visit to a historic location in the town centre. As a result, the sessions may take up to two and a half hours as a whole.
- The Cathedral session will take place at the Cathedral, not the Museum.
- Access to the classroom requires climbing stairs with a handrail to reach the first floor.
